The American Psychiatric Association jointly sponsors the Indiana Psychiatric Society and The Kentucky Psychiatric Medical Association's 5th Annual Regional Integrated Mental Health Conference.

PROGRAMMING

The delivery of mental health care is a rapidly changing landscape. Evidence suggests the integration of psychiatric care into the physical care setting is imperative in the treatment of those with mental illness. However, many psychiatrists, primary care physicians and other professionals are unsure how to best make this happen.

Join us as we examine current cutting-edge research, evidence-based practices and models on integrated care. Explore the relationship between the mind and body, furthering your knowledge of the interplay between physical and psychiatric illness. Learn about the business of integrated care from national experts.

Speakers will present a balanced program of lectures and case scenarios to improve your understanding of these issues. Join us!

EDUCATIONAL NEED

Current situation: The delivery of mental health care is a rapidly changing landscape with the integration of psychiatric care into the physical care setting. Many psychiatrists and primary care physicians are unsure how to integrate their practices in an effort to provide quality, efficient service to their patients. Physicians need to explore existing models and gather tools for successful integration.

Proposed changes: It is hoped that as a result of participating in this program, physicians will have an improved understanding of the importance of coordinated care and they will have improved collaboration with medical peers thereby improving patient care and quality of life.

ACCREDITATION AND DISCLOSURE STATEMENTS

Accreditation Statement: This activity has been planned and implemented in accordance with the Essential Areas and policies of the Accreditation Council for Continuing Medical Education (ACCME) through the joint sponsorship of American Psychiatric Association (APA), the Indiana Psychiatric Society (IPS), and The Kentucky Psychiatric Medical Association (KPMA). The APA is accredited by the ACCME to provide continuing medical education for physicians.

Designation Statement: The APA designates this live activity for a maximum of 14.0 PRA Category 1 Credit™. Physicians should claim only the credit commensurate with the extent of their participation in the activity.

Disclosure Statement: It is the policy of the APA to comply with the ACCME Standards for commercial support of CME. Planning committee members and related staff disclosures must be on file annually with disclosures made available on program materials. Faculty participating in sponsored or jointly sponsored programs by APA are required to disclose to the program audience any real or apparent financial relationships with commercial interests related to the content of their presentation. Faculty are also responsible for disclosing any discussion of off-label or investigational use of a product.

LEARNING OBJECTIVES

After participating in this program, participants will:

- develop an understanding of the important parts of a diagnostic interview for an alcohol use disorder.
- recognize the various neurotransmitter pathways involved in alcohol dependence.
- learn how to appropriately use the medications approved for the treatment of alcohol dependence.
- gain an understanding of the pertinence of integrated care to psychiatry.
- be able to identify what APA is doing at a policy level regarding integrated care and care collaboration.
- learn about the kind of educational resources and technical assistance APA has available for practicing psychiatrists.
- recognize the risks to patient safety and potential increase in liability exposure posed by certain features within EHR systems.
- be able to develop strategies to overcome system deficiencies and improve patient safety.
- be able to identify the factors that evidence the standard of care in telepsychiatry.
- be able to explain the need to contact state medical boards where patients treated remotely are located, if different from the state where the psychiatrists are located.
- be able to explain how the prescription drug abuse epidemic affects physicians.
- be able to explain existing state and federal laws on prescribing.
- be able to discuss the impact of changes to Indiana and Kentucky prescribing laws on doctors.
- appreciate the role of population management in the emerging collaborative care models and particular elements involved in this strategy.
